41 years and still going strong...

In 2013, Village Camps is in its 41st summer of providing top quality camps and unforgettable experiences to thousands of kids and teenagers from around the world! The aim is to continue to maintain the highest standards of instruction, friendly supervision, camper care and safety conditions, ensuring a productive and fun time for each participant. Every summer, we welcome campers from 30 to 40 different countries to our camps in a wonderful and beneficial international environment.

Using well-equipped centres as well as experienced and enthusiastic staff members, Village Camps delivers top-class speciality programmes designed to improve specific languages, sports, arts, or leadership training skills and inspire youngsters to be the best they can be. With so many options you will certainly find the programme most suitable for your child.

NEW! Boston, USA is the newest camp offered for the first time in summer 2013 in cooperation with our trusted long-time partners, CISS Canada. What better place than the educational capital of America to host an international group of students! Boston has everything: history, tradition, culture, world-famous universities, legendary sports franchises and excellent attractions to visit. The focus is very much on English language learning and older students have the opportunity to follow a TOEFL preparation course that will help them boost their scores for this proficiency exam which is a pre-requisite for North American universities. Taking advantage of the proximity to some 50 colleges and universities, older campers embark on a tour of selected institutions, meant to give them an idea on how their US university experience can be while they also receive valuable tips regarding the years leading up to university and the application process.

The private Ardèche campsite in the south of France, has undergone major refurbishments last year so campers now enjoy brand new tents, new canoes and activity equipment as well as significantly improved facilities. All these, have made the experience at this outdoor, riverside camp even more comfortable and enjoyable. Ardèche welcomes a small group of kids offering a personalised experience in a breathtaking national park, not to be missed!

The ever-popular York Camp in England continues to amaze Village Campers with new sporting facilities added each year to the already beautiful and well-equipped campus of Queen Ethelburga's College. Among the highlight programmes are the Leadership Training Camp for teenagers, the Football Camp with the charismatic head coach, Neil O'Donnel, and the Basketball Camp with former champion, David 'Doc' Rivers, who has had an impressive career playing for the LA Lakers and several top European clubs.

Language Camps - Over the past few years, the Village Camps' language programmes (English/French/German) have seen new well-structured syllabuses, updated material and fresh, innovative methods of teaching, all designed by a team of language experts. The results in terms of the improvement shown by participants as well as the feedback received from families have been extremely encouraging with even more additions planned for summer 2013. The recent accreditation of the York English Language Camp by the British Council constitutes recognition of the high standards maintained at every Village Camps language programme.

Accredited by the Wow, it seems like yesterday that we started Village Camps, even though it was over 40 years ago...back in 1972 (today's campers probably see that period as the Middle Ages 😊). But it's important to point out that the founding principles and objectives set 40 years back have always remained the same and the need to provide a safe, productive camp environment where children can flourish and grow is still very much valid today. Here's how it all started...

The summer after I left the company where I was working, I found myself sitting on a terrace in sunny Spain with some good friends, wondering what our futures would bring. From the age of six, I went to summer camp, every year, and always loved it. I made some great friends, learned about people, improved my sporting skills and eventually became a rather good athlete. About 12 years later, I had my first (of many) camp counsellor job, in the Catskill Mountains in New York State. Again, I loved it!

So back in Spain, looking at the future, one of the guys threw out the idea: "Hey Roger, you loved your work as a counsellor, you loved everything about kids and camps... what about summer camps in Europe???" Here it was...the beginning of Village Camps!

When I got back to Switzerland, I looked up summer camps in the phonebook (no web then I'm afraid, other than those spiders built). I found one in the Alpine village of Leysin, made enquiries and arranged to meet the Director there, Mr. Robert McCausland. We hit it off immediately and after a relatively brief discussion, we agreed to speak to a local international school in the Geneva area to see if they would rent us their campus in the summer, when the school year had finished.

To my extreme pleasure, they were interested. The first major challenge was to come up with a $20,000 guarantee, which at that time represented a significant amount for me. One of my friends from that Spanish meeting helped me find someone to furnish the guarantee and away we went.

My marketing scheme to get us clients was pretty basic. I mimeographed several thousand leaflets then, together with some pals, we attacked big apartment blocks all over Geneva, leaving our literature in the mailboxes. It was our best ad effort, it was a great drawing of Charlie Brown and Snoopy, with Charlie Brown dreaming "I'd love to go to Village Camps this summer, it would be a great experience". Then dropping down to Snoopy, his thought was projected: "I wonder if they accept beagles?"

It worked. Pretty soon we had enough kids to be able to launch our first camp, which was both a residential and day camp. So, now the next issue presented itself. Where do we find the necessary staff to make sure this experience would be incredible?

Around that time, I received a telephone call from an American, who was working as an English teacher in France and who had heard I was starting a summer camp where he could possibly work. One or two questions later, I had my man. It turned out to be Ed Ivy, who would eventually become my main partner, after Robert, unfortunately passed away.

With Ed, we expanded the camps to Leysin, then as years went by and the camps proved so popular, we opened up sites in France, England, Austria and China where we have remained to this day. Over the years, our interest in 'Education through Recreation' for youth moved us towards developing school programmes focused on the Environment, Outdoor Education, Ski & Study, Leadership, etc. Schools loved it, to the extent that we are now part of about 70 International Schools' curriculums who join us with their students every year.

With the internet expansion and as always, the desire to improve our contribution to children's education, Village Camps is looking for new markets, new places and new ideas that will appeal to today's generation of teenagers. With our sights set in the future and on places the world over, Ed and I are still working on our original objectives: to provide a safe and pleasant environment for children, to see them make new friends, become better prepared for their futures, appreciate teamwork and understand how important it is to have fun in their lives, whatever they choose to do.

“ Dear VC Leysin Team,
 I would like to thank you on my behalf and on behalf of our friends for the great time our daughters had at the summer camp. Please accept our sincere appreciation and gratitude for your tremendous work, efforts, creativity that made the holidays of our children unforgettable. They have arrived full of emotions, great memories, funny and exciting experience. They have enjoyed every minute of their stay, which is very impressive and strange (knowing our children). They have already asked us to plan the same camp for the next year. Once again thank you very much! ”

English or French Language Camps

Ages 10-17

School happens all year round but at Village Camps learning in the summer, although a serious business, is based on a unique FUN approach. That is what a good camp is all about – learning but enjoying the experience at the same time!

Each language camp offers 15 hours of English/French immersion per week in small groups of 8-12 students, allowing time for personalised, individual attention. The teachers are native speakers who are qualified and certified professionals with previous teaching experience. On arrival, each camper is assessed and then placed into a group with other campers of a similar level. The first couple of days show if students are in the correct group or if they need to be moved to a higher or lower level. The language programme coordinator receives daily feedback from the teachers and the progress of each individual student is closely monitored.

The programme is suitable for all abilities and the emphasis is firmly on encouraging the campers both to speak and understand the language using discussion, role playing, group projects and local visits. The teaching staff is patient and resourceful in reinforcing the learning process each day and maintaining student interest through a pleasant teaching approach. Above all the final outcome is usually an impressive improvement!

The two official camp languages are English and French with instructions given in both at every major meeting. Being that the campers come from every part of the world, the setting is very international and English is the main spoken language outside the classroom.

In afternoons, the language students, together with their friends from the other programmes, participate in exciting activities which take place at the well-equipped sports centres of Leysin and in the gorgeous surrounding mountains.

Sports Camp

Ages 10-17

This is the perfect programme for campers who love sports! At our disposal are two top-class sports centres with great indoor and open-air facilities while the impressive mountains around Leysin provide additional opportunities for exciting outdoor activities. Time is spent developing skills in popular sports including football, basketball, beach volleyball, swimming, tennis, climbing, archery, hockey, badminton, fitness trails, as well as other sports and games that are often new to many campers. The whole action-packed experience is challenging, fun and enhanced by competitions and team games. After lunch, these campers join the afternoon activities in their appropriate age groups.

Adventure Camp

Ages 10-17

Having been developed following popular camper demand in recent summers, the Adventure Camp is surely going to impress every participant! From the first day and throughout the session, campers are challenged to work together in teams while developing their individual skills. The focus is on the achievement of goals, teambuilding, leadership and most of all, having fun while enjoying fantastic activities.

For the most part, the activities are in the outdoors, in a superb Alpine setting which is second to none! Campers are guaranteed to try some activities that are completely new to them and to develop new interests. The schedule includes: rock climbing, hiking, mountain biking, white water rafting (15+ years), high ropes course, outdoor survival skills, nature trails and the highlight of the session which is a trek high above the village of Leysin, for an overnight stay either in a welcoming mountain hut or camping in comfortable tents, with campfire, cook-out and team games. What a thrill!

Dance Camp

Ages 10-17

A programme designed for campers who want to create, rehearse and ultimately perform during the special evening events at camp. The head instructor is very experienced and highly-popular amongst the campers. She provides a top quality programme covering many different styles of dance and performance. The campers spend mornings developing their routines, choosing music, working on choreography, designing costumes and rehearsing. They are often encouraged to take initiative through their own ideas in the preparation process and suggest moves which they would like to include in the shows. The Dance Group always puts on an impressive last night performance leading to loud applause from the entire camp.

Junior Camp

This is the perfect introduction to summer camp! The Junior Camp provides a truly special 'first-time-away' experience for young children. Juniors always feel comfortable and confident at camp, enjoying the exceptional care of a dedicated, experienced team of counsellors (ratio is one to five). The group follows its own daily schedule which includes a selection of specially adapted activities, such as football, trekking, arts & crafts, music, dance, ice skating and other choices. Meals are taken together with the other campers providing an opportunity to reassure any older brothers or sisters that they are having a great time.

Juniors also participate in several suitable 'all-camp activities', the daily midday meeting and the excursions. Therefore, they are very much a part of the overall camp but at the same time are also able to enjoy their precious privacy in a separate building, next to the main residence. Parent-camper contact is facilitated in case of homesickness during the first few days. The fantastic schedule, the privacy and the caring personal supervision throughout, add up to a guaranteed super-duper first experience away from home!

Tennis Camp

Ages 10-17

In collaboration with the renowned California Tennis Academy, head coach Steve Loft provides first class lessons and an exceptional improvement programme for tennis players, based on 15 hours instruction per week, using both covered and outdoor clay courts. All together there are 12 courts of three different surfaces available to the Tennis group. The programme caters for all ability levels starting with complete beginners. The quality coaching makes it suitable even for the tournament-level junior players who can have more intensive training. Everyone participates in the 'In-Camp' tournament while higher ranked players have the opportunity to play matches with local opponents. After the enjoyment of the morning tennis instruction there is a great choice of other fun activities for the rest of the day and evening which campers enjoy in their respective age groups.

Tennis and Language Camps (English or French)

Ages 10-17

This camp combines a practical language experience in English or French with the Tennis Camp. Campers receive three hours of language tutoring in the mornings and then three hours of tennis instruction during the afternoons. A combination of two full programmes makes for a busy day and although these campers miss out on the daily afternoon activities, they participate in the exciting evening programme.

Film Academy

Our acclaimed programme now in Leysin

This popular programme has been a successful feature of the Austrian camp for many years and it was offered for the first time in Leysin this past summer. The feedback from the participants was very positive and the work which the students produced was phenomenal! Under the direction of an experienced producer, campers learn all the basics of film making from an original script right through to shooting, editing and directing. The lessons cover all the essential technical processes including sound, lighting, special effects and production. The young campers are assigned the task to develop a script, produce a storyboard, select locations before shooting, editing, selecting a soundtrack and dubbing.

After returning home, every camper involved in the Film Academy receives a DVD of their very own short movie. The usual format involves working on the film project during the morning and occasionally in the afternoons and evenings. This camp is for dedicated, enthusiastic campers who will be inspired to use their energy, creativity and emerging technical skills to produce a completed film from start to finish, the cast being the entire camp!

The Central Residence Hotel

Leadership Training Camp (LTC)

Ages 16-18

This is one of Village Camps' highlight programmes, an award-winning, must-attend camp for older teenagers! Leadership Training Camp provides participants with the opportunity to build leadership skills, learn problem-solving techniques, develop communication skills and work more effectively in teams. The programme combines inspiring presentations on a variety of topics with unique speakers from every part of the world, team challenges, competitions and exciting outdoor activities. Campers are challenged to set goals and objectives for themselves and work hard towards achieving them while at camp but also in their everyday lives. At this very crucial age, such a dynamic programme with its substantial take-home value has a positive effect in the teenagers' character-building process and inspires them towards higher goals. Just before they complete their high school years and get ready for university, LTC is exactly what they need to increase their self-confidence, think with a positive mindset and be well on their way to becoming effective leaders.

Campers are required to have an intermediate level of English to fully participate in the workshops and obtain the desired results. The leadership group is housed independently from the main camp, at the comfortable Central Residence Hotel in Leysin and has its own Director, team of counsellors and schedule to follow. At the end of the session, everyone receives a certificate of completion to take with them but, more importantly, they take home an abundance of positive elements together with a new perspective to life and valuable lasting friendships.

David Allen, Director of the Leadership Camp

“ My Leadership Camp experience was the best experience of my entire life. It was truly life changing for me. I want to thank you so much for all of the knowledge that this camp has given me. I feel as though I have learned and experienced things many people never obtain. The VC program challenged both my mental and physical abilities. The sessions helped me realize the kind of person I want to grow to be. They helped me to recognize the most important things in my life and how to make them better. The activities taught me how to keep going and not give up, how to work as a team, and that sometimes you have to tie to win! ”
Meredith

Located amidst rolling green meadows and wooded countryside, the magnificent campus of the Queen Ethelburga's College is a short drive from the historic city of York. This camp offers exceptional on-site leisure and sports facilities as well as high quality accommodation in well-designed apartments. The residence which hosts our group is just a few years old and each apartment has full en-suite facilities, modern furniture, a small kitchen and workstations. The QE College is considered to be one of the best equipped residential colleges in the UK with facilities that continue to be upgraded and which now include, a new indoor sports hall, a magnificent 25-metre indoor swimming pool, an artificial surface track & field, several football pitches, tennis courts and a challenge course.

An outstanding choice of nine different programmes

Campers should choose a two-week focus programme from nine great options. The English Language Camp, accredited by the British Council, offers three hours of lessons per weekday. The ever-popular David Rivers Basketball Camp as well as the outstanding Football, Golf and Riding Camps are high among the campers' preferences. For the artistically inclined, both the Creative Arts and Performing Arts Camps are ideal while the Activity & Adventure programme is for those who want a variety of activities on a daily basis. Finally, for the older teenagers, 15-17 years old, the award-winning Leadership Training Camp is the perfect pre-university programme.

Fun's the thing, learning's the objective!

The typical Village Camps day is divided into four main activity periods, two in the morning and two in the afternoon. Campers are assigned to groups according to their particular choice, then by age and/or skill levels. Weekday mornings are devoted to the speciality camps. During the afternoon, campers join in a range of outstanding activities in their respective age groups, under the watchful eye of our dedicated, caring and experienced staff team. The supervision ratio at York as well as at the other VC sites is one counsellor for every six campers; safety and camper care are the top priorities. English is the official language at York and everyone is expected to make progress in their speaking skills, simply by attending this camp. Of course, for maximum progress the English Language Camp is recommended.

Where learning is fun and effective

Village Camps, working with highly qualified language teaching specialists, has developed a winning format based on using the spoken word, tasks, challenges, small-group and role-playing projects. Campers make unprecedented progress because they actually enjoy these innovative lessons! The York language camp is based on 15 hours of instruction each week in groups of 8-12 students and is suitable for all levels. Classes take place from Monday to Friday from 9.00 am to 12.00 pm. Students improve their understanding and their conversational skills by practicing speaking together, using a range of interesting subjects that become short but engaging projects that include role play, developing ideas and discussion. The work is serious but the instruction is light and informal, always aimed at retaining campers' interest with some sessions conducted outside in the campus grounds. The instructors pay individual attention to each student focusing on the areas which need improvement. A continuous assessment programme monitors performance and at the end of camp, a detailed progress report is sent to each family.

Our qualified coaching team leads training sessions every weekday morning, using the first class pitches of the campus, which now include an all-weather artificial surface pitch. Players are divided into ability groups and they work hard to develop individual skills and techniques as well as team tactics.

Sessions cover free kicks, corners, penalty taking, goalkeeper coaching, heading the ball and other essential skills, followed by a short competitive game on a five-a-side pitch, with time taken out to analyse tactics and pick up any points that need individual attention. The course will suit beginners and young players looking to make a start or improve their game, right up to gifted players dreaming of a professional career. On the last day of camp, an enthusiastic crowd attends the Campers vs Counsellors face-off. The David Rivers Basketball Camp

The name David 'Doc' Rivers is very special to basketball enthusiasts. David was a professional NBA player for the legendary Los Angeles Lakers with star teammates such as Magic Johnson, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Byron Scott. David continued his brilliant career with several of Europe's top clubs in Greece, France, Italy and Turkey, winning every major title from National Championships to first place in the prestigious Euroleague competition in 1997 with Olympiakos of Greece. David was voted 'Europe's Most Valuable Player'. Join David's fifth summer in York for what will undoubtedly be an unforgettable basketball experience with one of Europe's best coaches for young players. Every morning, and early afternoon (4½ hours per day), players learn how to get into great shape and perfect their basketball skills, from dribbling, to passing, to rebounding, to defence, and of course, shooting. Young players learn how to use their individual skills to become highly effective team players with the 'know how' to win games. The course demands hard work, dedication and application to develop personal and team skills. The training takes place at the College in a superb new sports hall with three courts at our disposal. In addition to the basketball, a wide range of other fun activities will guarantee a never-to-be-forgotten two-week experience. And for those of you who have not followed David Rivers' career, we invite you to visit our website for a video preview (or go to 'youtube').

'Mr Phil', a leadership and team building 'Guru'

Leadership Training Camp (LTC)

Ages 15-17

This is an award-winning programme which all teenagers should experience! Campers are involved in a thrilling range of tasks and challenges where teamwork, communication and problem-solving are put to the test. Each day is constructed around workshops at base camp as well as physical exercises, outdoor activities and 'thinking' challenges. Included are field excursions designed as rally type contests with campers given places to find, sites to visit, items to collect and missions to accomplish. The Leadership Training Camp is an innovative programme ideal for older teenagers who want to gain confidence and develop their 'life-skills' in preparation for university studies and their future adult life.

The 3-5 hour interactive workshops include truly inspiring presentations on a variety of topics using sophisticated resources. Internationally renowned speakers with impressive backgrounds attend the programme, delivering memorable, outstanding presentations with real take-home value. In recent years, some of the speakers have come from the US, Canada, Malta, Italy and South Africa.

Campers are often divided into teams with the task of making strategic plans to fulfill a series of objectives. For example, they could be asked to design and implement a special event activity for one of the younger groups at camp or they can be assigned the task of planning an excursion for the whole leadership group, using a limited budget. These are great fun, but of course challenging. The purpose is to provide campers with project work designed to enable them to understand the advantages of working together as a team, in partnership with other group members, in order to achieve set goals. By understanding that problems and obstacles are an inevitable part of life's experiences, they learn how to deal effectively with these issues.

The bottom line is that teenagers who go through the very special LTC experience gain self-confidence, motivation, a better understanding of themselves and an appreciation of the value of effective teamwork. LTC helps campers to 'raise their game' and think at a higher level, learning what it takes to become an inspirational leader in every aspect of their lives. At the same time, they make new friends from the world over and enhance their understanding of England and its culture.

A brilliantly conceived and unique programme integrating dance, theatre, singing and music progressing throughout the session to an impressive last night performance.

This unique Village Camps programme for aspiring performers with 'stars in their eyes' is headed up by Jono Freeman, a talented and charismatic musician, drama and theatre specialist. Jono works closely with an outstanding team that includes a dance specialist, voice and singing coach and a production manager. During the first few days, campers, along with the teaching team, discuss ideas in order to decide on the main theme and context of their end-of-session performance. The coaching team works with the enthusiastic actors, actresses, singers and dancers to improve their individual skills building their efforts into what is always a superb show for the end of the session. The show takes place in an intimate theatre in the historic centre of York, attended by the entire camp as well as by visiting parents. Every camper steps into the spotlight and also learns about back-stage production, lighting, scenery, make-up, costuming, stagecraft and voice projection. After the summer, a DVD of the performance is mailed to each participant.

The Performing Arts programme is quite intensive, taking up 4½ hours per day, but campers also have the opportunity to participate in various other sports and activities in the afternoons and evenings with their new friends from all over the world.

Creative Arts Camp

Ages 10-17

Over the past summers, the Creative Arts programme has proved to be a major success, directed by an experienced art educator. The course is dedicated to developing, stimulating and inspiring creativity in the visual arts. It is suitable for all abilities from the enthusiastic or curious beginner to the most talented artist. Campers are encouraged to explore, create and express themselves in a wide range of art forms including painting, sketching, drawing, and sculpting. Important aspects of the history of art are also covered in the course during a special visit to the prestigious York Art Galleries. The camp allows aspiring artists to try new experiences, learn techniques and improve existing skills. Although this is a challenging and intensive programme, it is fun all the way. Campers enjoy seeing their work displayed regularly throughout the session and at the end of camp exhibition, a perfect finish to what will be a memorable summer experience.

“ I would like to thank you and your staff to have looked after Angelica and Giulia very well. They enjoyed the camp very much and it was a great experience for them with a real improvement of their English! Many thanks. Saluti! ”

Riding Camp

Ages 10-17

An exceptional riding programme for young riders with top instruction and great facilities at the renowned Harrogate Riding Centre

The Harrogate Riding School is led by Jennifer Birtwhistle and her son Drew. Jennifer is a chief instructor and judge for the British Horse Society, both she and Drew have represented their country at National and International level. They have used this expertise to build-up a superb teaching team and a top-class programme for young riders who want to achieve significant progress.

Safety always comes first! The centre has strict assessment process and rules in place which are followed at all times. Riders coming in from different countries and with varied levels of riding experience, have to patiently prove themselves with 'easy' horses and simple exercises before moving onto more challenging ones. At the beginning, campers are assessed and divided into levels but the assessment continues throughout the session and those who are making solid progress are moved to higher levels and have the chance to work with different horses.

Instruction includes walking, trotting, cantering, jumping of logs and small fences as well as practice in the famous English dressage style. Campers also learn about safety matters, the care of horses, plaiting, bandaging, tacking up, brushing and washing the horses after work, cleaning the tack, all important tasks of stable husbandry. Throughout the session there are fun competitions and games for everyone to enjoy.

The centre has a variety of facilities available to our group:

- ⊗ a superb indoor arena, with a large viewing area
- ⊗ an outdoor show-jumping arena with water obstacles, banks and ditches
- ⊗ an extensive cross-country course
- ⊗ an outdoor manege
- ⊗ open fields with access to magnificent forestry

When the riders return to camp, they join the exciting afternoon and evening activity programme in their respective age groups.

English Language Add-On

Recommended for campers in the sports or art camps who still want to take some English language lessons. These campers participate normally in the morning and early afternoon programmes but instead of joining the sign-up activities during period D they have 90-minute English lessons focused on conversational skills. It takes place four times per week, making for a total of 12 hours in the two-week session.

Golf Camp

Ages 10-17

The Forest of Galtres 18-hole parkland course is located some 30 minutes drive away from the main campus. This much acclaimed, intensive programme is for committed golfers of all abilities, serious enough to spend four to five hours each weekday learning to play the game or work on improving their handicap. Lessons take place every weekday morning and during the first part of the afternoon. In charge is the well known PGA qualified instructor and club professional, Alastair Grindlay. Alastair has 17 years of teaching experience in England, Germany and Spain; using modern teaching methods with physical screening, in-depth putting analysis and 'Mind Factor' teaching he delivers a top quality programme. There is a practice green, a sand trap 'chipping area' and a six bay covered driving range. At lunchtime golfers enjoy a packed lunch or a meal at the clubhouse and take some time to relax before going on to the afternoon session. The 6,000-metre, professionally designed, 72-par course has greens built to the specification of the US Golf Association.

The golfers are divided into ability groups with friendly putting and chipping competitions as well as opportunities to play a full 9 or 18 holes. Every golfer can expect to make significant progress over the two-week session. Sets of clubs are available for hire, for those who will not bring their own. Golf is great fun but is also hard work and requires dedication! This is a must-attend camp for those who really want to experience top instruction by leading pros and a superb course on their way to improving skills and lowering handicaps.

English Language Camp

Ages 10-16

The goal is to ensure that campers learn English in an engaging and fun way with the emphasis being on comprehension and conversational skills. Thirty hours of instruction in the two weeks are constantly reinforced in the hours outside the classroom, as the main camp language is English. Following a placement test, small groups for different levels are formed and the instruction is personalised to the needs of each student. Students are encouraged to work hard, participate enthusiastically and make progress but the idea is for them to also enjoy a really fun time in a warm and friendly environment. This is a very successful and popular way of teaching campers to appreciate the learning process and the results have been unprecedented. At the end of the summer a progress report is sent to the parents. In the afternoons and evenings the English Language students join the rest of the campers for a variety of exciting sports, activities, excursions and special events.

German Language Camp

Ages 10-16

The main objective is for the students to improve their speaking skills and comprehension while attention is also given to vocabulary development. Like in all the language courses at Village Camps, the philosophy is based on learning a new language by enjoying the experience. Games, field projects, video and music exercises are often a part of lessons in an effort to maximise interest and involve the students as much as possible. In the two-week session, there are thirty hours of practical instruction in small groups of 8-12 students.

Whenever the opportunity is there, language campers are encouraged to use their German during other activities and visits while instructions from activity leaders are frequently given in German as well. Of course the main camp language in this international environment is English.

After the morning lessons, campers from the different programmes join together to enjoy a variety of activities, some planned by staff members and others chosen by the campers themselves from our list of suggestions. In addition, everyone has the chance to take an active part in the Film Academy's movie making projects.

Mountain & Lake Adventure Camp

Ages 10-16

This is an extraordinary programme with a wide range of exciting and challenging activities that take place in spectacular surroundings. A non-stop adventure based around the resort of Zell, its beautiful lake and stunning mountains dominated by the Kitzsteinhorn Glacier with its year-round snow.

In addition, the choice of sporting activities, which take place on site and at nearby facilities, includes football, tennis, swimming, basketball, badminton, volleyball and team games.

Zell am See is an exceptional starting point for wonderful excursions, like the unforgettable day in Salzburg, the Krimml Waterfalls and a trip to the top of the Grossglockner Pass, one of Europe's best summertime drives. The evening programme lives up to the daytime activities with special events such as the Mystery Night at a castle, International Night, Treasure Hunt and Prom Night. The bottom line is that campers enjoy a fascinating two-week programme in an idyllic setting!

Film Academy

Campers are inspired to learn what it takes to make a film from script writing to shooting, editing, directing, and organising sound and light. Film Academy director Edward McDougal is a renowned producer and director of a number of award-winning films as well as a university professor who travels worldwide to deliver expert seminars in screenwriting and production. Campers are taught the technical side of filming, production, editing and special effects. Their involvement is total, first developing a script and then modifying a story board, selecting locations, shooting, editing and dubbing. The cast of the final film consists of the entire camp community and each participant in this programme receives a DVD of their very own short movie after returning home! Traditionally, mornings, and occasionally afternoons and evenings, are devoted to the film project.

Using the group's creativity skills, an existing script will be modified, locations investigated and campers interviewed to determine individual roles. This is an inspiring camp which encourages enthusiasm, energy, dedication and real creativity. During the afternoons there is a choice of other activities, always provided that campers are able to finally tear themselves away from their cameras and computers! Incidentally, these are all iMACs with first class editing capabilities.

He has attended several summer camps over the past 2 summers and Village Camps is by far his favourite. The counselors were very cool and fun with him, and he really loved being outside and all the activities. Until next summer (when he insists on staying for 4 weeks). ”

Karen, a very grateful mother from Austin, Texas

Village Camps is proud to present an exciting new camp experience in Boston, Massachusetts in collaboration with its trusted partners, CISS Canada. The two organisations have an invaluable combined experience of 75 years in the camp industry; the substantial know-how accumulated through this period assures the top quality of the new US camp.

Boston is the most historical city in America, founded in 1630, nearly 150 years before the colonies formed a new nation. It's a beautiful mixture between tradition and modernity both in terms of architectural structures and with regard to the values it represents. Serving as the base to numerous prestigious universities, Boston has come to be known as the educational capital of the United States. It is also home to a number of historic sports franchises in all the major North American sports: the New England Patriots (NFL), the Bruins (NHL) the Boston Red Sox (MLB) and the legendary Boston Celtics (NBA)! And with its beautiful summer weather, this city is just ideal for a great summer programme with English-learning, fun activities, exciting visits, college touring and new friends to share it all with!

A private boarding school with superb sporting facilities

The Hillside Middle School is located in Marlborough, a delightful Boston suburb 30 minutes from the city centre. Founded in 1902, this private boarding school for boys has picturesque camp grounds, surrounded by lush forests and 150 acres of undisturbed landscape. The schools' teaching and sporting facilities are impeccable featuring numerous sports fields, modern classrooms, an indoor sports hall and a strong focus on environmental sustainability.

The accommodation residence hosts 2-4 campers in each room with shared bathroom facilities available on every floor. Boys and girls are housed in different sections of the residence and supervised at all times by staff members.

A challenging and balanced programme

The programme is one combining English language with sports, activities, exciting excursions and university touring for the older campers. Students have 3 hours of lessons every day accumulating 15 hours per week. Following a placement test, they are divided into small, level-appropriate groups of 6-12 students allowing for personalised instruction. The lessons emphasise comprehension and conversational skills while the surrounding environment, which is completely English-speaking, adds to the experience and helps participants achieve significant progress.

A typical day consists of the language learning module in the morning, followed by either an afternoon activity or excursion. The afternoon activities include sports, arts and adventure activities, often making use of the campus's great facilities. As for the excursions, the options are numerous including popular visits to amusement parks, entertainment centers and shopping malls. The well-rounded schedule is completed with the age-appropriate evening activities and special events prepared by the campers.

NEW: TOEFL Prep-Course & University touring for older students

The TOEFL exam is recognised by 8500 universities in 130 countries (<http://www.ets.org/toefl>) and it's a pre-requisite proficiency test for non-native speakers who want to study at a US or Canadian university. Designed for the older students aged 16-17 years, the TOEFL preparation course is a great opportunity to improve grammar and syntax skills while learning useful test-taking techniques and time-management methods. These are equally important as the actual language knowledge when taking the TOEFL or similar tests. Students are assessed through a mock test at the beginning and at the end of the session to measure their progress and help them concentrate on the areas requiring improvement.

The presence of some 50 colleges and universities in the area has earned Boston the reputation of being the educational center of the United States, among them, Harvard, MIT, Boston College, Boston University and TUFTS. Taking advantage of the proximity to so many higher education institutions, older campers have outings with College Touring meant to give them a taste of how their US university experience can be in terms of life on campus, academics, accommodation arrangements, and social entertainment. Towards the end of their stay, students also participate in a workshop focusing on the university application process, with tips on what admissions counselors are looking for in a good candidate. Precious advice is given on how to write a good essay, what type of extra-curriculum activities to be involved in, how to show leadership skills etc.

Taking place in a wonderful city, with so much in the schedule and under the watchful eye of two experienced organizations, the Boston Camp promises to be an amazing and enriching experience for every camper!
